Creating Delightful User Experiences

2 days ~ 8 talks ~ 8 workshops
Thursday 22nd & Friday 23rd May 2014

About UX Lausanne

UX Lausanne is a human-sized, refreshing two-days' conference focusing on User Experience Design. It hosts presentations, talks and workshops, right in the heart of the «Swiss Silicon Valley», on the hills next to the Geneva Lake. It aims to bring together some of the greatest actors and practitioners in user experience design, usability and information architecture. The event's goal is to increase the density of connections and exchange between local and international professionals interested in user experience design.

For its first edition, UX Lausanne won't focus on a narrow topic but we would like to put the conference under the notion of delight. The notion of delight will be central throughout the conference, first as a theme: - How to design delightful user experiences - but also as a reminder of our goal to delight our attendees and speakers. User Experience design is fundamentally about how to create products and services to delight their users. At the same time, hospitality is one of Switzerland's core-value and expertise. We'd feel we have succeeded if we manage to make attendees & speakers feel delighted too.

What is User Experience Design?

User experience design is a field where users and their needs are seen as the core concern, especially in interactive products such as software, websites, mobile apps and their interfaces. When you find apps or systems particularly pleasant to use or fluid, chances are User Experience Designers were involved at different stages of their development.

User Experience Design (often abbreviated UX) is crucial for clarity and intelligibility of apps, software and systems.

The aim of UX Lausanne, as well as other conferences of the same type - such as UXLondon, SXSW in Austin, UX Lx in Lisbon etc. - is to increase the visibility of User Experience Design and draw attention to Switzerland and its industry on the map of creativity, design and interaction.

Who's making UX Lausanne happen?

UX Lausanne is organized by UXRomandie, an association for User experience design and a local IxDA* group. UXRomandie was founded by Gilles Demarty and Simon Farine. It counts 250 active members. And since 2011 UXRomandie organizes free monthly events, talks and workshops in order to spread and discuss the latest UX practices, share knowledge and inspiration.

First UXRomandie event: October 2011

Number of total events: 21

Attendees per event: 30 - 80

* IxDA is a global network dedicated to the professional practice of Interaction Design. With the help of more than 50,000 members since 2003, the IxDA network provides an online forum for the discussion of interaction design issues and other opportunities, as well as platforms for people who are passionate about interaction design to gather and contribute to the development of the discipline.
